Cookies

We believe in transparency about how we collect and use data. This policy details how and when we use cookies for these purposes. Note: Capitalised terms used in this policy but not defined have the meaning set forth in our Privacy Policy, which also includes additional details about the collection and use of information at Homescoutmedia Pty Ltd.

What is a cookie?

Cookies are small text files sent by us to your computer or mobile device. They are unique to your account or your browser. Session-based cookies last only while your browser is open and are automatically deleted when you close your browser. Persistent cookies last until you or your browser delete them or until they expire.

Does Homescoutmedia Pty Ltd use cookies?

Yes. Homescoutmedia Pty Ltd uses cookies and similar technologies like single-pixel GIFs and web beacons. We use both session-based and persistent cookies. We set and accesses our own cookies on the domains operated by Homescoutmedia Pty Ltd and its corporate affiliates (collectively, the “Sites”). In addition, in some instances, we use third-party cookies, such as Google Analytics.

How does Homescoutmedia Pty Ltd use cookies?

Some cookies are associated with your account and personal information in order to remember that you are logged in and which accounts you are logged into. Other cookies are not tied to your account but are unique and allow us to carry out analytics and customisation, among other similar things. Cookies can be used to recognise you when you visit a Site or use our Services, remember your preferences, and give you a personalised experience consistent with your settings. Cookies also make your interactions faster and more secure.

- * Authentication cookies allow us to show you the correct information, personalise your experience and verify your access to your account
- * Some cookies enable and support security features to help us detect malicious activity on our website
- * Some cookies allow us to retain your choice of language in certain areas, and may provide features, insights or other customisations.

We may also use cookies to help us deliver marketing campaigns and track their performance (e.g., a user visited our Support Center and then made a purchase). Similarly, our partners may use cookies to provide us with information about your interactions with their services, but use of those third-party cookies would be subject to the service provider’s policies. Performance, Analytics and Research Cookies help us learn how well our Sites and Services perform. We also use cookies to understand, improve, and research products, features, and services, including to create logs and record when you access our Sites and Services from different devices, such as your work computer or your mobile device.

How are cookies used for advertising purposes?

Cookies and other advertising technology such as beacons, pixels, and tags help us market more effectively to users that we and our partners believe may be interested in Homescoutmedia Pty Ltd. They also help provide us with aggregated auditing, research, and reporting, and know when content has been shown to you.

What can you do if you don’t want cookies to be set?

Some people prefer not to allow cookies, which is why most browsers give you the ability to manage cookies to suit you. In some browsers you can set up rules to manage cookies on a site-by-site basis, giving you more fine-grained control over your privacy. What this means is that you can disallow cookies from all sites except those that you trust. Browser manufacturers provide help pages relating to cookie management in their products. Please consult the documentation that your browser manufacturer provides for details on this. You may opt-out of third-party cookies from Google Analytics on their website. In addition, on your iPhone, iPad or Android, you can change your device settings to control whether you see online interest-based ads. If you limit the ability of websites and applications to set cookies, you may worsen your overall user experience and/or lose the ability to access the Services, since it will no longer be personalised to you. It may also stop you from saving customised settings, like login information.

Does Homescoutmedia Pty Ltd respond to Do Not Track Signals?

Our Sites and Services do not collect personal information about your online activities over time and across third-party websites or online services. Therefore, “do not track” signals transmitted from web browsers do not apply to our Sites or Services, and we do not alter any of our data collection and use practices upon receipt of such a signal.

Are other cookies set when using Homescoutmedia Pty Ltd?

Additional cookies may be set on individual registration pages created by users. These are not controlled by Homescoutmedia Pty Ltd and you would have to refer to that particular user’s own privacy policy and/or terms and conditions for more details.
